WOULD HAVE WIVES SALARIED. An English Woman's Scheme for Running a Household.

CHICAGO, May 16 .- Mrs. Havelock Ellis has arrived in Chicago from England and is a guest at Hull House. She is an author and playwright and is the wife of the English writer on sex subjects. Mrs. Ellis English writer on sex subjects. Mrs. Ellis has some ideas of her own on sex.

If Mrs. Ellis had her way an amount of the coin of the realm large to contemplate would change hands from husband to wife. She believes every woman should put in a bill for cooking, another for caring for the children and still another for managing her husband's household. The house-leaving bill she helieves ought to be cleaning bill, she believes, ought to be generous in proportions.

"Domestic happiness cannot be attained—except in the exceptional case—unless there is economic independence on the part of both the man and his wife." Mrs. "The economic independence of married women is bound to come. A magnificent way for a woman to keep a man in love is to go out and earn her own living.

"Why, I've been married twenty-three years, and I just got four letters from my husband in one post. I am economically

"Men need a lot of education about love. Why are they so unsatisfactory—these husbands? Because they're always thinking of pleasing themselves. Most men don't love women at all. Women have been last too long. It's time they were light now."

Mrs. Ellis believes the time is coming when there will be no need of the marriage ceremony.

"If the big real law of love were in working order there would be no need of marriage," she said. "In some cases marriage is essential. Men make it so. They leave the women in the lurch, and the women must be protected."

Rush to Get Free Land.

Chehalis, Wash, May 16.—Ten persons for every claim appeared at the opening of 5,000 acres of Government land in the Big Bottom country in eastern Lewis county recently eliminated from the Rainier forest reserve. There were only sixty-three homesteads, and homeseekers had assembled from all parts of the Pa-cific northwest, attracted by the reputed fertility of the soil of the upper Cowlitz Applicants may file on the lands "THE NEW JERSEN TOUR"
